CANADIAN NATIONAL RAILWAYS (S. W. Fairweather)

Let us suppose a man has $100,000 invested in a business and that the revenues from his business are enough to pay his wage bill, the cost of all materials used, and to maintain his factory in good useable condition, paying all taxes and public charges and leave over $2,000 a year. The ordinary man would say, "My business has yielded me $2,000 profit on my $100,000 investment", but the man who dams the Canadian National Railways says, "Oh no! You should have earned $6,000 on your $100,000 investment and therefore your plant has lost $4,000", and your business issue a note to you for this $4,000 loss and pay interest on it. This goes on for a period of years and you will see that in a relatively short time the business which in point of fact was making a small return on the invested capital would be shown as a hopeless proposition. That is all there is to it. Gentlemen! The Canadian National Railways, from 1923 until well on into the depression in 1931, paid all its wages and materials on operating account, taxes, and all items of expense except interest on invested capital, including substantial provisions for depreciation and retirement of property and amortization of bond discount—in fact all items of expense whether immediately needed in cash or not, and had left over something as a return on the property invested.

Education For Adults

To the testimony of others no less an authority than Dr. Walter C. Murray, president of the University of Saskatchewan recently added his opinion that there is a wide open field for educational facilities for adults and while he referred to conditions in the province in which he resides and teaches his assertion is equally applicable to the situation in the other prairie provinces.

While Dr. Murray pointed out that the development of his "unexplored field" is prevented at the present time for lack of finances he noted one very encouraging feature and that is that there was "a growing feeling of the need of education for themselves among adults themselves."

The statement that this is an encouraging feature of the situation is no doubt inspired by the belief that if adults themselves realize the need the problem is already partially solved, for the desire will presently be followed by a more or less insistent demand and once this demand becomes sufficiently strong some way will assuredly be found to cater to the need.

This renaissance in embryo, this dawning desire on the part of adults for greater educational facilities may be ascribed to a number of causes. One of them is a growing fear lest in a world of rapidly changing conditions they may lag behind the growing consciousness of superior mentality on the part of the younger generation.

During the depression period of the past few years the difficulty experienced by the rising generation of securing suitable employment, or even of any work at all, has resulted in a large number of the youth of both sexes remaining in school longer than, for many of them, would ordinarily have been the case. Many who would have gone out to work when they had completed a public school course or one or two years in high school, have completed high school training and gone on to University or taken post graduate courses in technical schools or other institutions, partly because they themselves sensed that when commercial and economic conditions improve they will be the better fitted for the keen struggle in competition for the work that then offers which is bound to ensue and partly because parents have felt that it is better that their offspring should spend this hiatus in improving their minds than in enforcing idleness.

As a result many parents have discovered that their children are better trained and better mentally equipped than they are themselves, despite the years of experience they have had in the school of hard knocks. They have discovered that their children are able to handle with ease problems which they can only solve with painful effort and then, perhaps with much less adequacy. They have discovered that their children have learned to apply scientific methods in solving their problems and have had the chance to discover that their own "will to do," backed by years of experience has frequently failed to measure up in comparison with the more up-to-date methods of the juveniles.

Another cause of this stirring of a latent desire for more education may also be attributed to a substantial increase in the practice of reading of books and magazine and newspaper articles and more particularly on more serious subjects. The increase in reading can be traced to a desire to better understand the difficulties with which the world in general has been confronted in recent years and a hope through these channels to find some practicable solutions.

Now it is a sine qua non that the practice of reading inevitably brings about a revelation that the reader after all knows comparatively little and creates a thirst for more knowledge and more information. In this respect it is akin in its operation to the use of habit forming drugs but lacks the evil results of indulgence in narcotics. In fact, it has just the opposite effect, that of permanent stimulation. The natural sequence is a desire for the aid which the younger people are receiving in their institutions.

In schools and colleges and other educational institutions of the present day the whole aim of the courses is not to cram the students with a miscellany of facts, but rather to guide them in the selection of studies which may be of value to them and to train them to reach their own conclusions from the work they have undertaken. This is the true function of education. The more adult population appreciates this fact in the light of the demonstration which is being given them by the younger generation and are becoming increasingly anxious for similar opportunities.

The Mediterranean fruit fly is causing such damage to Hawaiian crops that efforts to find parasites controlling it are being intensified.

Mind Should Be Exercised

Lady Tweedsmuir In Broadcast Urges People To Think

Lady Tweedsmuir speaking at the opening ceremonies of national education week, admitted that as a child she was poor at arithmetic, a "difficult and distressful problem."

"In the modern world where conditions are changing with such lightning rapidity," she said, "it is vital that we all set our minds to devising a system of education at once elastic enough to meet our needs and strong enough to stand the strain of the ever-changing conditions of the 1930's."

After outlining her idea of education which included the three R's and A. G. geography, Lady Tweedsmuir mentioned mechanical advantages accorded the modern child over those of his predecessors, but added:

"To stare stupidly at the movies and listen unintelligently to the radio is not going to help people to have minds that work for themselves. One of the curses of modern life is a tendency to smatter and never go deeply into anything. The mind may become boneless and flabby because it has never used its mental muscles and its sinews."

Letters Are Returned

Man Receives Three Out Of Five Thrown From Ships

Leo Buring of Sydney, Australia, has just received the third letter of five he had "mailed" in bottles from ships in the Pacific Ocean months ago. One bottle, thrown overboard near the Tongan Isles was found, five months later, on the Fijian shore 900 miles away. Another floated 500 miles to the North Queensland coast. The third was thrown overboard near Pago Pago. This drifted to the Gilbert Islands and was found by a native who took it, spent the six cents placed in the envelope for postage, on tobacco or beads, and tucked the letter, which he could not read, in his belt. There it was noticed by the captain of a trading schooner, who sent it back to Buring.

Coal Mined In January

Was 94,131 Tons More Than In January Last Year

Production of coal in Canada during January totalled 1,381,944 tons, an increase of 94,131 over January, 1935, the Dominion bureau of statistics reported. The output consisted of 772,638 tons of bituminous coal, 65,108 sub-bituminous, and 544,198 lignite.

Alberta led with an output of 635,554 tons, with Nova Scotia next with 437,357. Saskatchewan produced 140,697 tons and New Brunswick 53,677 tons.

Palace May Be Modernized

King Would Like Swimming Pool And Squash Court

Buckingham palace may be fitted up with a swimming pool and a squash court. The new king is a keen squash enthusiast and when he lived in London as Prince of Wales he had a swim nearly every morning at a well known sporting club. Stately old Buckingham palace will probably be altered in many ways to suit the modern tastes of Edward VIII. and it is known the swimming pool and squash court are under consideration.

Live Stock Value

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics estimate the value of horses, cattle, sheep and swine in Saskatchewan during 1935 at $86,360,000. The value of farm poultry in this province also shows a considerable increase over 1934 having reached the sum of $5,299,000.

Carried By White Men

Tuberculosis Is Increasing Among Eskimos In Arctic Regions

It is reported from Montreal by way of London that two scientists of that city having spent some weeks in the study of health conditions among the Eskimos in the Eastern Arctic regions, discovered that tuberculosis is rapidly increasing among them, but that it is through contact with white men. The presence of common colds among the natives is "almost inevitable after the arrival of a ship." Infection from influenza is known to have wiped out small Eskimo communities.

On the other hand, it is stated that natives of these regions never succumb to cancer or diabetes, and while unable to resist infection from colds the Eskimos can stand extreme fatigue and extremely cold temperatures. The healthiest groups were found where the inhabitants wore native clothes and were unable to obtain much of white man's food.

Extensive and protracted studies in that frigid area might be helpful to us in fighting diseases that are so prevalent in temperate regions, through the discovery of what possible inducing causes are prevalent here that are lacking there. The brief observation of these two scientists but calls attention to what should be further pursued.—New York Times.

World's Fastest Express

Accelerates To 100 Miles Per Hour Within Six Minutes

An express train which attains a maximum speed of 110 miles per hour with four coaches has been taken over by the Reich Railroad Co. The train, said to be the fastest in the world, has a total weight of 125 tons, and is streamlined throughout.

The acceleration of the new express steam locomotive is terrific; a speed of 100 miles per hour is reached within six minutes. The train can be brought to standstill from its maximum speed within 3,000 feet after the brakes are applied.

For the first time in German railroad history, the train will have an observation platform on the last coach like American trains.

Quebec Winter Sport Mecca

Premier dog-racing event in North America, the International Dog Derby at Quebec City on February 20-21-22 is expected to attract hundreds of winter sports enthusiasts from Canada and the United States to see the leading mushers of the two countries in competition and to enjoy the skating, ice hockey, skating, and curling centering around the famous Chateau Frontenac. An interesting duel is expected this year between Harry Wheeler, of St. Jovite in the Laurentians, champion last year, and Orville Carriere, of Quebec City, who defeated Wheeler this year in Lacola, New Hampshire annual derby. A startling contrast to this event in Eastern Canada is the annual golf competition held about the same time at Victoria, B.C., in the Evergreen Playground of the West. Both are sponsored

Here and There

Vancouver is holding this year the Golden Jubilee celebration of its founding in 1863. Some of the features planned include a series of events of all kinds, a pageant, a special performance of Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream" in English, and a performance of "The Merchant of Venice" in Italian. A number of special exhibitions and lectures from all over Vancouver. Ceremonies will reach their peak in the first ten days of May.

At the annual Burns dinner held at the Vancouver Hotel, Van-200 Burns lovers took part, the royal Scotch haggis was brought over from Vancouver and was carried in a stately procession to the dinner by Miss Grace Decker and piped around by a band of dancers. The dinner was given by Donald Cameron. Guests were received from such cities as Edinburgh, the United States and London, England.

Stating emphatically that suc-
